

MILLENNIUM BADGING

Simple, fast, reliable wireless access control integration solutions

The Millennium Badging solution allows for the creation of custom printed access control credentials. This allows for a single card to act as both identification and access control authentication eliminating the need for duplication of credentials. The Millennium Badge Module allows you to create and supply your own photo ID badges. It consists of several options to fit your needs: a software-controlled digital camera, a high-end badge printer, and powerful Windows®-based software. Badges can include a bar code, digital signature or magnetic stripe encoding compatible with our on-line and stand alone electronic access control systems.
