

VISITOR MANAGEMENT WITH ULTRA

Millennium Ultra visitor sub-system for managing temporary access

Modern access control systems provide a myriad of ways for us to manage the people who go in and out of buildings and secured spaces efficiently. Providing ways to grant temporary access to non-dwellers of buildings in a seamless way is the genius of the Millennium Ultra visitor management module.

The Ultra visitor management sub-system provides a way for you to grant temporary access to secure facilities, doorways, event centers, sports facilities, business entities and even private homes. With the visitors subsystem, the operators of a Millennium access control software system can manage visitor cards, access levels and badges for different classes of people including contractors, holiday renters, visiting family members, business auditors, suppliers, interns and many others.

Operators can simply go into the user defined fields within Millennium Ultra to enable visitor visibility in order to add new visitors to the system.

Ultra allows for the customization of access levels to give only the required temporary access to visitors, create schedules that determine the duration of the temporary access. When the end time is reached, the access is automatically disabled.

With the new integration of the Millennium Mobile Connect Credentials, visitors can now be granted access to facilities virtually through the UMC app on their phones. Now you can let your Airbnb guests into the secured rental spaces through the click of the button on their smartphones after creating temporary visitor profiles for them in Millennium Ultra.
